

LOUIS WALKER IS APPOINTED JUDGE

ACTING GOV. COX NAMES GARLAND MAN TO FILL THE VACANCY.

As predicted in the Interior Journal of Tuesday, Acting Governor William H. Cox appointed Louis L. Walker, of Lancaster, Circuit Judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge M. C. Sauley, a little over a week ago.

The appointment was made by Gov. Cox at Frankfort today (Friday) and it is understood that it becomes effective immediately. Judge Walker will hold his first term of court at Danville early in September.

The appointment of Judge Walker will hardly come as a surprise to those who figured out the politics of the situation, for United States Senator W. O. Bradley threw the weight of his powerful influence behind his townsman and county man, and as Cox is said to have decided gubernatorial ambitions, the influence of the Senator in his behalf a little later will probably be worth the nomination.

Judge Walker is one of the best known attorneys at the Garrard bar. He is said to have a large practice and is regarded by all as an able man in the legal profession. His term will only last until Jan. 1, 1912, for an election will be held November, 1911, at the time of the regular state election to choose a judge for the remainder of Judge Sauley's unexpired term. As the district, composed of the counties of Lincoln, Garrard, Boyle and Mercer, is usually largely democratic, it is confidently expected that a democrat will succeed Judge Walker, after a little over a year's service. The emoluments from the office during his short term, however, will amount to a little over $5,000.

TO HOLD SPECIAL TERM OF COURT IN LANCASTER

Judge J. M. Benton left Thursday for Lancaster to hold a special term of court. This is in the district presided over by the late Judge Sauley and no successor to Judge Sauley has been appointed. Acting Governor Cox selected Judge Benton for the special term.—Winchester

Still After Crab Orchard

MERCER COUNTY MEN HAVE OPTION ON SPRINGS

The negotiations for the sale of Crab Orchard Springs have not yet been completed, but Judge John W. Hughes and Lion Charles A. Hardin of Mercer, passed through here yesterday and said that it is practically settled that in combination with a number of prominent capitalists, Judge Hughes will purchase the Springs property. He has an option on the place now and is awaiting the settlement of several minor details before it will be closed. One of the hitches in the negotiations is said to be by parties who own an interest in the famous well at the depot which the syndicate headed by the Mercer people, also want to acquire.

It is understood that Judge Hughes option is at a figure around $30,000. If it is secured, they plan to put improvements on the famous old resort to the amount of $100,000.

THE GREAT EVANGELIST

REV. CHAS. D. TILLMAN. Who will conduct the annual camp meeting at Jumbo, this county this year. He is said to be a very gifted speaker and earnest worker.

SAVED FROM AWFUL PERIL. "I never felt so near my grave," writes Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, Ohio, R. R. No. 3 "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 115 pounds in spite of many remedies and the best doctors. And that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 160 pounds and can work hard. It also cured my four children of croup." Infallible for coughs and colds. It's the most certain remedy for lagrippe, asthma, desperate lung trouble and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. L. Penny, druggist.

Does Double Duty

MRS. GIVENS' TURKEY HEN LOSES NO TIME.

The "nature fakers" dig up many strange tales of the antics of animals but here's one on an old turkey hen which can be proven true by anyone who wants to see it by going to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Givens. This turkey hen laid out a clutch of eggs early in the summer, and after hatching out a brood of young turks, took them off the nest and while mothering them proceeded to lay another setting of eggs. At last accounts she is still laying, and still tending to her brood of young ones. This is the kind of poultry worth having, and it is said that Mrs. Givens is asking fancy prices for this particular brood of turkeys, but whether all the hens are all guaranteed to do double duty, has not been learned.

Lancaster.

Elder J. W. Hardy, of Nashville, preached at the Christian church Sunday morning.

Mr. James Byers age 90 years, died of the general decline at the home of his son-in-law at Marksbury.

F. G. Hurst bought a building lot of S. G. Haselden next to C. D. Powell's store. He expects to have a two-story warehouse erected on the site and the building to be used to store furniture, or in connection with his large furniture business.

Mrs. J. B. Kemper gave a handsome and sumptuous dinner at her country home Wednesday. Mrs. James I. Hamilton of this city being one of the honor guests.

Rev. C. C. Brown is engaged in a series of meetings at Hyattsville.

S. G. Haselden wife and little son, are at home from Louisville, having returned in their handsome new automobile.

The work upon the Lancaster hospital is being pushed right along under the supervision of the promoters the three able physicians Drs. J. M. Acton, James B. Kinnaird and Wm. Burnett.

The following comprise a house party at the home of Miss Edna Beale at Bryantsville: Miss Mary Clay Williams, Martha Tindler, Florence Johnson, Mamie Storms Dunn, Elizabeth Ford and Grace May Cochran. James I. Hamilton bought a handsome combined mare of K. L. Edwards, of Cleveland, Miss., for $350. He sold 55 hogs to V. A. Lear at $1.20. Clell Dunn a colored boy of 16, shot two colored youths of about the same age, after a difficulty. One George Sautters was shot in the head and George Jennings in the face and it is thought Jennings' eyesight will be entirely destroyed.

Mrs. Robert Cox died at her home a mile of Lancaster on the Crab Orchard pike Sunday at 12 o'clock of paralysis. The deceased was 44 years of age, and a consistent member of the Christian church. Besides her husband she is survived by five children a grown son and daughter. The interment was in the Lancaster cemetery.

The new side walks of concrete pavements are about completed on Currey avenue and will certainly make a handsome building annex to Lancaster.

Binom Davis and Miss Pearl Boan, of Cartersville, eloped to Jellico, Tenn., where they were united in marriage.

Wm. Washington bought a horse of Moses Humphrey, for $153. Humphrey bought a young horse of James Murphy for $110.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS.

Tonic in quality and action, quick in results. For backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness, urinary irregularities and rheumatism. Shugars and Tanner.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

We have for sale at a bargain splendid business in Stanford. Owner has a good reason for going out of business. This is a money making proposition for the right man.

Also come to see a fine farm of 200 acres in Garrard county right on pike, right at railroad station, fine improvements, first class land price $130 per acre. Write us for catalogue of other farms in Lincoln and Garrard counties.

HUGHES & SWINEBROD, The Real Estate Men, Lancaster.

For Sale—Nice residence on Main street in Stanford, Ky., the frontage of lot large enough for another building lot. All necessary outbuildings. Everything in good repair. Price $2,750. A bargain, see L. R. Hughes,

BABY ATTACKED BY VICIOUS SOW

MRS. WILLIAMS RESCUES INFANT SON FROM PORKER BY USE OF A CLUB.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Williams of the Hedgeville Section, had a narrow escape this week when it was seized by a vicious sow. Only when the little fellow's mother beat the porker over the head with a club did it release the little boy.

The child's father is a brother of Mr. James W. Williams, of this city, who was at once notified of the affair. It seems that Mrs. Williams was engaged in some house work on the back porch, and the little boy, was playing on the floor of the kitchen. Suddenly the sow came along, and seizing the little boy by a leg with her mouth, started to drag him to her wallow in a shed nearby. The screams of the baby brought his mother at once to the rescue and she beat off the vicious brute with a club. The little fellow's leg is said to be badly lacerated by the sow's tusks but it is not believed that any of the injuries will prove serious.

Middleburg.

J. R. Wilson has bought a brand new grist mill and is setting it up at Yosemite to do grinding for the public.

Rev. Jas. Balintyne came over from the Association at Ellsburg and preached at the Baptist church Friday and Saturday afternoon.

The Baptist people are endeavoring to secure the services of Rev. O. M. Huey in a protracted meeting here in the near future.

Rufus Maynard a youth of the Walltown section came down one day last week and surrendered to Constable Marion Black, on a charge of a breach of the peace. He will be tried Friday.

During the rain storm here Sunday morning lightning killed two heifers for Mc D. Fogle and a mule for C. C. Jones. A bolt struck a locust tree in Mrs. Martha Sharp's yard and running down killed two chickens.

Jason Lawhorn has bought a half interest in the stock of goods of Mrs. Belle Lawhorn of Yosemite, and E. L. Gaddberry and the writer are engaged in taking an inventory of the stock.

In our letter last week we inadvertently left out the marriage of Mr. James Drye and Miss Nannie Adams. They are popular young people and deserved better treatment and we beg pardon for the omission.

In writing up the Murphy reunion last week we mentioned Mrs. Richard Hester as one of the grandchildren of Mrs. Murphy and your type got it "Mrs. Richard."

County Election Board Named

S. T. HARRIS AND A. C. CARMAN APPOINTED—OTHERS IN THIS SECTION.

S. T. Harris and A. C. Carman, together with Sheriff McCarty, will compose the board of election commissioners in Lincoln county this year. The appointments were made yesterday at Frankfort by the State Board of Election Commissioners. Mr. Harris represents the democratic party and Mr. Carman the republican. Both are high class men in every way and will make efficient officials.

Other election commissioners for counties in this section, are as follows: The first named being a republican and the second the democrat.

Adair—G. F. Stults, Rollin Hurt. Boyle—N. K. Tunis, Logan Wood. Anderson—Alonzo Strutton, W. P. Cox. Casey—G. R. Watson, E. C. Moore. Garrard—R. H. Batson, J. I. Hamilton. Jessamine—J. T. Vince, N. L. Bronaugh. Knox—W. F. Parker, J. M. Gilbert. Laurel—G. A. Settle, G. G. Brock. Madison—Walter Bennett, B. Bates. Shackelford. Mercer—S. R. Wilder, E. P. McGarvey. Pulaski—E. Wesley, Chas. McDowell. Rockcastle—D. B. Southard, William Foynter. Russell—B. P. Phelps, M. H. Beemard. Shelby—B. B. Ross, R. W. Briggs. Spencer—W. L. VanDyke, John Wigginton. Wayne—S. L. Wright, J. R. Whitte. Whitley—D. Y. Lawson, E. E. Pritchard.

OHIO VALLEY EXPOSITION

Aug. 29—Sept. 24, 1910. A magnificent parade will take 3 hours to pass a given point will mark the opening of the Ohio Valley Exposition, Aug. 29th 1910. Special low rates to Cincinnati, O., via the Q. & C. route have been placed in effect. Ask ticket agent for particulars. W. A. Beckler, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, O.

CRUSHED TO DEATH BY TRACTION ENGINE

GEO. REYNOLDS MEETS FEARFUL FATE WHEN BRIDGE GIVES WAY NEAR M'KINNEY

George Reynolds, one of the best known men in the West End of Lincoln county, met a fearful death on last Tuesday afternoon, when a traction engine he was driving, went through the wooden bridge over a small creek between Turnersville and McKinney. Mr. Reynolds was pinned at the hips by the big wheel of the engine against the stone abutment on one side of the bridge and it was almost two hours before the rescuers were able to release him. He died that night as a result of the injuries he sustained. He was 49 years of age and leaves several children, his wife having preceded him to the great Beyond several years.

Mr. Reynolds was accompanied by two colored men, George and William Brock, on the engine. They were pulling a thrasher from one wheat field to another. When the engine went down, his assistants were thrown into the creek and miraculously escaped serious injury. Mr. Reynolds insisted, however, that the men who were endeavoring to extricate him, should help the others before doing anything for him. He maintained that he was not hurt. It is said that he was caught in an upright position against the stone abutment, and his body was evidently so benumbed by the fearful pressure that he did not realize the terrible condition he was in.

The remains of Mr. Reynolds were laid to rest after appropriate services at McKinney.

School Begins Early

MISS ETHEL HILTON ELECTED TO FILL VACANCY IN THE FACULTY.

The Stanford graded and high school will open Monday September 5th. The prospects are flattering for a good school, in fact the outlook looks better each year. The faculty has been completed and it is with satisfaction that the trustees announce that the school system was never more nearly perfect than at present. All now resident pupils in Lincoln county will be given free tuition if they present a certificate from the county board of examiners. This applies, of course, to those who do not live in a school district whose tax is 20c or more. Pupils expecting to enter this will bring their certificates with them the first day of school. Those who have not this certificate will be charged tuition, at the regular rates.

Greater advantages are being offered each year. Since a high school education can be obtained in this way it is certainly a great inducement to all who can take advantage of it. Miss Ethel Hilton, of this county, a graduate of Campbell-Hagerman College, Lexington, was elected to the vacant teachers place this week. She is said to be very well qualified for the place.

Mt. Salem

Mr. H. B. Floyd has gone to Shelbyville, Ind., to take treatment.

Mrs. Nora Barnes who has been the guest of Mrs. N. McCarty, will return to her home at Knoxville Tenn., this week.

Miss Arnold Engleman who has been visiting her brother, Mr. Matt Engleman and also Miss Mattie Floyd returned to her home in Danville last week.

Miss Mattie M. Floyd attended the Baptist Association at Ellsburg last week.

Quite a number of our people will attend the association at Hustonville this week.

Bro. Jones pastor of the Hustonville Baptist church will preach for us next Sunday. Everybody invited.

ITCHING ECZEMA WASHED AWAY

Is it worth 25 cents to you to stop that awful, agonizing itch? Surely you will spend 25 cents on your druggist's recommendation, to cool and heal and soothe that terrible itching eruption? By arrangement with the D. D. D. laboratories of Chicago we are able to make a special offer of a 25-cent bottle of their oil of wintergreen compound known as D. D. D. prescription. Call or write or telephone to Shugars & Tanner. We absolutely know that the itch is stopped at once by D. D. D. prescription and the cures all seem to be permanent.

SOMERSET FAIR.

Aug. 30-31, Sept. 1-2. Round trip tickets via Queen & Crescent Route will be sold Aug. 30, 31, Sept. 1 and 2, good returning until Sept. 3, 1910. The round trip rate from Junction City to Somerset for this occasion is $1.45.

Coming This Way

LOUISVILLE AUTO CLUB'S RUN ROUTED THRO' LINCOLN.

In making up the route for its endurance and reliability run, the Louisville Auto Club included considerable of Lincoln county in its second day's itinerary. It's official schedule says, of the route and conditions of the roads:

The total length of the tour will be 440 miles, and will require two and a half days. Harrodsburg has been selected as the first night stop and the motorists are scheduled to travel a distance of 148 miles, with the Lincoln Farm as the noon stop. The second day's tour will end at Whitesboro, where the travelers will spend the night at the Brown Proctoria Hotel.

The second days schedule says: Harrodsburg to Danville...good macadam (via Burgin).

Danville to Stanford...fine macadam.

Stanford to Crab Orchard...good macadam.

Crab Orchard to Lancaster...good macadam.

Lancaster to Richmond...good macadam (Richmond for dinner).

Richmond to Lexington...extra fine.

Rowland.

Mrs. Myrtle Collier who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Delaney, returned to her home at Bedford, Ind., Sunday.

At the meeting of the Board of Education, J. T. Mundy was appointed chairman and W. C. Camden, Secretary for the first division of public schools of this county.

Mr. W. C. Camden has the place as general manager of Land and Buchanan's grocery and soft drink stand here.

Mr. John Dennis who has been manager informs us that he will go in business at Bryantsville.

Mr. T. D. Martin stuck a nail in his foot Sunday and is giving him some trouble.

Rev. D. M. Walker will preach at our church Sunday at 3 P. M.

A. Hurst and Sidney Jennings have just returned from the Lawrenceburg fair where they had a good time.

CHURCH ITEMS.

Rev. Younan, the Armenian, will preach at the Hustonville Christian church Sunday.

The revival services are continuing at the Christian church with very able sermons by Dr. Morrow.

Many people from Stanford and this end of the county attended the South District Baptist Association at Hustonville this week. James T. Wilson, of Harrodsburg, was re-elected moderator for the third term while Edward H. Fox, of Danville, was chosen secretary for the 15th consecutive year. Stanford was selected as the place for the next annual meeting next year.

HERE'S TOUGH LUCK.

(Danville Advocate.)

Mr. Harvey Merriman who resides on the farm of Mr. M. J. Farris near town on the Perryville pike has been having a streak of bad luck. Some time ago while building a barn, he attempted to hoist a twenty-foot post. The post fell and struck Mr. Merriman on the leg, breaking the bone. He recovered in a short time and resumed work. While doing some carpentry work on the same building, he fell from the scaffolding and broke his leg again. That was six weeks ago and he began walking on the broken limb some days ago. Yesterday afternoon as he was stepping into his front door he slipped and fell and the bone was again broken. He will be confined in bed for some time.

PICNIC AND DANCE.

A grand picnic and platform dance, will be given on Saturday Aug. 27, in Russell's Woods at Millidgeville.

This will be an old fashion dance and picnic. Good music. Plenty to eat. Ice cream and cool drinks guaranteed to be on the grounds. Boys bring your girls and come. Police protection guaranteed. Admission free. Wm. Gaddis Mgr.

TO THE PUBLIC

Having suffered loss to my dwelling by fire and being insured with Jesse D. Wearen, the insurance man, Stanford, Ky., it is with pleasure that I recommend the above Jesse D. Wearen to the insuring public for his prompt attention and liberal settlement of my loss. Signed, C. C. Terry.

WHERE TEACHERS WILL BE LOCATED THIS TERM.

LIST OF LINCOLN COUNTY PEDAGOGUES AND THEIR LOCATIONS THIS YEAR.

County Superintendent Garland Singleton has just made out a list of the teachers who will conduct schools in Lincoln county this term and their assignments. The list is as follows: Francis North, Hustonville; Nell Ellis, Moreland; Fannie Hatfield, Stanford; Ila Pettus, Preachersville; Lizzie Pettus, Preachersville; Kate L. Wells, Crab Orchard; Nettie Bogle, Hustonville; Lula Earls, Hustonville; Viola Brady, Stanford; Herbert Reynolds, Eubanks; Geo. T. Bourne, Lancaster; Walter Singleton, Stanford; Virgil McMullin, Eubanks; T. D. Lay, Waynesburg; Zora Baugh, Waynesburg; Sarah Greer, Waynesburg; Hobert Burnett, Stanford; Ophelia Warren, Crab Orchard; Morris Thompson, Stanford; Dollie Singleton, Stanford; Mary J. Hubbard, Stanford; Sarah Howard, Crab Orchard; Mrs. Dollie McBee, Stanford; Mrs. H. D. Phillips, Stanford; Jessie Newland, Stanford; J. W. Ireland, Stanford; Clara Carter, Stanford; Margaret Hopper, Stanford; Lena Palmer, Stanford; Annie McKinney, Stanford; Francis Adams, Stanford; Prof. S. S. Robinson, Hustonville; Kate Bogle, Hustonville; Lula Cochran, Hustonville; Mamie Yancie, Hustonville; Prof. H. C. Wilson, Crab Orchard; Bessie Hocker, Crab Orchard; Mrs. Margaret Spitzer, Crab Orchard; Prof. J. S. Flanagan, Kings Mountain; A. H. Long, Kings Mountain; Mattie Lipps, Hustonville; Mrs. Stella Montgomery, McKinney; Julia Williams, Eubanks; Lucy Hubble Eubanks; Cyrus Johnson, Kings Mountain; Mrs. Calb Newell, Waynesburg; Elsie Singleton, Waynesburg; Ethel Wilson, Crab Orchard; Curtis Wilson, Crab Orchard; Bertha Lucas, Crab Orchard; J. A. Hays, Waynesburg; E. L. Grubbs, Moreland; Lansing Lanham, Hustonville; W. T. White, Ottenheim; J. E. Bennett, Kings Mountain; Cornelius Floyd, Waynesburg; K. G. Martin, Hustonville; Caleb Newell, Waynesburg; Roscoe Wheelton, Crab Orchard; Dennis Gooch, Waynesburg; Julia Dameron, Hustonville; E. G. Gilliland, Kings Mountain; Fannie Spears, Moreland; Fannie Young, Waynesburg; Elizabeth Lay, Lancaster; Effie Young, Waynesburg; Ola Godby, Waynesburg; Agnes L. McCora, Moreland; Della Godby, Stanford; E. O. Gooch, Crab Orchard; Maud Brown, Waynesburg; V. C. Gilliland, Kings Mountain; Ethel Adams, Eubanks; Annie Holtzelaw, Preachersville; Harry Hopkins, Stanford; Ruby Carrell, Stanford; Mary Wilson, Crab Orchard.

Blue Lick

We are enjoying the much needed rain which done much good to corn and tobacco.

The picnic given by the Sunday School last Saturday was well attended and about $25 was raised for the new church. Everybody had a good time and splendid order.

Everyone who wishes to contribute for the new church can do so by calling on Miss Mary Stringer or A. Y. Daugherty. Any sum will be appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Obie Bolton, of Lancaster, have been visiting Mrs. Eliza Daugherty of this place.

Arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sowders on the 19th, a 5-pound democrat. Mother and baby are doing well, and the father doing as well as could be expected.

Tobacco harvesting has commenced in this neck of the woods.

CINCINNATI LIVESTOCK.

Cincinnati, Aug. 26.—Cattle—Receipts 847; market steady and quiet; fair to good shippers $6@7; common $2@3.75; Hogs—Receipts 2,735; market 5@10c higher; butchers and shippers $9.10@9.20; light $8.75@9.25. Sheep—Receipts 3,687; market steady; $1.75@4; lambs, market steady $3.75@6.60.

Complete Dispersal Sale

Of The Finest Herd of Mules And Brood Mares In Central Kentucky!

130 — MULES AND BROOD MARES — 130

Having Sold My Home Farm And Deciding to Change My Business, I Will Sell Publicly On

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 7th '10,

Beginning at 9 o'clock a. m. Sharp, at my Home Farm, one-half mile South of the Railroad Station, on Somerset street, Stanford, Ky., the following property, to-wit:

ONE JACK, NAMED SAMSON,

Six Years Old, sired by Bill Goebel; he by the great Joe Blackburn, that sold for $1,825. Samson is the CHAMPION MULE JACK OF KENTUCKY, his colts having won more premiums at the Kentucky State Fair, the Blue Grass Fair and several Central Kentucky Fairs in '08 and '09 than any other jack's colts; as well as at the Lancaster, Danville, Harrodsburg, Lexington, Lawrenceburg and Perryville Fairs, this year, the only fairs at which they have been shown to date. This Jack Will be Sold at 1 o'clock SHARP!

70 MULES! 70

Twenty Colts, half of them Mares,—16 Yearlings; half of them Mares; 20 two-year-olds; half of them Mares. Nearly all broken to work, including Six Pairs, Well Mated, Fourteen Mules, from 3 to 8 years old, including one pair Premium Horse Mules that weigh 3,000 lbs. Twenty of the above are show mules. I Have Won 175 Premiums in '08, '09 and '10 to date, which is more than any other breeder or dealer in this State can say. All the mules I won the premiums on, except three, I sold last fall, are in this Sale.

60 BROOD MARES Brod to Jacks, Forty to My Great Mule Jack, Samson. 60

3 2-YEAR-OLDS; 1-2 DRAFT STOCK; WEIGHT ABOUT 1,100 LBS.
6 4-YEAR-OLDS; 1-2 DRAFT STOCK; WEIGHT FROM 1,100 to 1,200 LBS.
20 5-YEAR-OLDS; 1-4 to 1-2 DRAFT STOCK; WEIGHT FROM 1,100 to 1,400 LBS.
10 6-YEAR-OLDS; 1-4 to 1-2 DRAFT STOCK; WEIGHT FROM 1,100 to 1,500 LBS.
11 7 & 10-YEAR-OLDS; 1-4 to 1-2 DRAFT STOCK; WEIGHT FROM 1,100 to 1,600 LBS.
10 SMOOTH MOUTHED; 1-4 to 1-2 DRAFT STOCK; WEIGHT FROM 1,100 to 1,600 LBS.

MOST OF THESE MARES ARE WELL BROKEN TO WORK ANYWHERE; AND ABOUT ONE-HALF HAVE COLTS THIS YEAR THAT WILL BE SOLD AT THIS SALE; AND THE OTHERS WERE BOUGHT IN THE SPRING IN INDIANA, ILLINOIS AND MISSOURI.

DON'T YOU NEED A FEW BROOD MARES? THERE IS NO STOCK ON THE FARM THAT WILL PAY BETTER THAN A FEW GOOD MARES THAT WILL RAISE $85 TO $125 MULE COLTS. THAT'S WHAT THEY ARE BRINGING IN KENTUCKY TODAY AND THERE HAS NEVER BEEN SUCH A DEMAND. THE BEST COLTS ARE OUT OF MARES WITH FROM 1-4 TO 1-2 DRAFT BLOOD. THEY HAVE BETTER BONE AND WEIGHT AND 90 PER CENT OF THE SHOW MULES ARE OUT OF SUCH MARES.

SIX CHOICE SHETLAND PONIES.

A FEW FARMING IMPLEMENTS; HOUSEHOLD AND KITCHEN FURNITURE, INCLUDING SOME

HANDSOME ANTIQUE FURNITURE.

THIS WILL BE AN ABSOLUTE CLOSING OUT SALE OF MY MULES, BROODMARES, ETC.

I WILL HAVE CONVEYANCES MEET ALL TRAINS ON SALE DAY. DINNER WILL BE SERVED AT THE HOUSE TO ALL.

TERMS—All sums of $10 and under, cash in hand; over $10 a credit of 6 months with 6 per cent interest from date of sale; purchaser giving a bankable note.

AUCTIONEERS—I. M. DUNN and T. D. ENGLISH.

J. H. Baughman,
Stanford, Ky.

Hon. W. H. Shanks will have his big closing out sale of mules, mares, etc., at Stanford, Sept. 6.

BIG SALE!

I will offer for sale at auction at my farm between the Crab Orchard and Somerset turnpikes, one mile from Rowland and two miles from Stanford on Tuesday, September 6, 1910.

78 Head of Mules, Horses, Jacks & Jennets

- 1 Mature Jack; good breeder.
- 2 Yearling Jacks; good size and well marked and well bred.
- 10 Jennets of good breeding and in foal to good jacks.
- 1 Suckling horse colt out of a Pence mare and by The Warfield.
- 1 Suckling horse colt out of Golddust mare and by Ashland Brook.
- 1 Short yearling horse colt out of draft mare by a son of Pence.
- 1 Yearling horse colt out of trotting-bred mare by Beau Naboth.
- 1 Yearling horse colt out of trotting-bred mare by George Hur.
- 1 Yearling horse colt out of draft mare by thoroughbred stallion.
- 1 Yearling filly out of draft mare by a son of Gambetta Wilkes.
- 1 Yearling filly out of Preston mare by Beau Naboth.
- 1 Yearling filly out of Dorsey Golddust mare by Ashland Brook.
- 1 Yearling filly out of thoroughbred mare by Chester Peavine.
- 1 Yearling filly out of Marion Squirrel mare by Chester Peavine.
- 1 two-year-old trotting bred mare by Beau Naboth.

MULES.

- 1 Suckling mare mule colt.
- 8 Yearling mules.
- 38 two-year-old mules.
- 5 three-year-old mules.
- 1 four-year-old mule.

CATTLE.

If not sold before I will also offer 40 good 1,100-pound feeders, 20 good 900-pound feeders and 20 head other cattle of different weight.

HOGS.

10 fine brood sows, bred to farrow the last of September.

TERMS--$10 and under, cash in hand. Over $10, cash or a good note, due in six months, bearing 6 per cent. interest.

Sale will be held rain or shine. Dinner served on the grounds.

Col. J. P. Chandler, Auctioneer.

W. H. SHANKS,

Stanford, Ky.

J. H. Baughman will have his closing out sale of brood mares, mules, Etc., Wednesday, Sept. 7.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL.

Established 1872.

EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY
At $1 Per Year in Advance.

WELTON SAUFLEY.....Publisher

Entered at the Post Office at Stanford, Ky., as Second Class mail.

W. P. Walton writing in the Lexington Herald, has this which will be good news to many of us water drinkers, who have had drummed into us by anxious mothers from early childhood, the manifold dangers attendant upon drinking water at meals:

One by one the old superstitions of the medical profession are getting knocked out. It has long been one of its strongest tenets that to drink water with meals was to defy natural health laws and court that most aggravating of diseases—dyspepsia. Believing implicitly in the proposition, many a man has almost choked to death in his effort to choke down a dry morsel of food, eschewing water as poison. But such time-worn and untenable destroyers of the pleasures of eating, like that which used to prohibit a typhoid patient from drinking anything but warm water as he lay burning up with fevered thirst, are making way for saner practice.

The Journal of Experimental Research, published under the auspices of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, says the faculty finds from experimentation that water is not only good for the digestion, taken during meals, but is an actual promoter of health and happiness. One of the subjects given a quart of water at each meal gained a pound of flesh a day, the experiment showing that the stomach, instead of refusing to work because of the great quantity of water, multiplied the gastric juices and increased the secretion. Instead of under the old belief that water is injurious when taken with meals, the Rockefeller's doctors' word for it and eat, drink and be merry, using Adam's ale to any extent without fear of unpleasant results. The world is moving and medical science is getting into the procession.

We're afraid our esteemed Atlanta correspondent is a much better grocer than political prognosticator.
In the democratic primaries in Georgia this week. Former Gov. Hoke Smith won for governor over the incumbent, Joseph M. Brown. Smith's popular majority in the State was approximately 4,000. Two years ago Brown, whom Gov. Smith had removed as chairman of the State Railroad Commission, defeated Smith for re-election by a popular majority of more than 10,000.

In his former campaign Gov. Brown made it plain that he did not intend to enforce the State-wide prohibition laws of Georgia, and after two years of this policy the people of the State have decided to go back to the policies which resulted in the State going dry.

"Cannonism" played an important part in the Georgia congressional primaries and brought about the defeat of Leonidas F. Livingston and William M. Howard, in point of service the oldest members of the Georgia delegation in the National House of Representatives. The fight against Livingston and Howard was, in each case, based upon the Representatives' alleged desertion of the democratic party during the special tariff session of Congress when the bolt of 23 democrats came on the famous Fitzgerald motion. Just another straw showing that the people won't stand for Cannon and his methods, or those who are caught in his company. And it is right.

WITH LIFE AND POLICY SAVED.

You can make a new start after the fire. Without the policy what a hopeless and dreary outlook would be yours. Don't risk it. Have us insure you today so that if fire come tonight as it may, you will not wake up tomorrow a ruined man.

Fish & Pennington,
Stanford, Ky., Phone 200

ed and water best covered pens, outside of Louisville, or Lexington.
STANFORD, KY. We also do a general hitch and feed business.

WHY SO WEAK.

Kidney Trouble May be Sapping Your Life Away. Stanford People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, kidney weakness may be the cause of it all.
Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well.
Can Stanford readers demand further proof than the following statement:
Mrs. T. S. Elkin, New Danville Pike, Lancaster, Ky., says: "I feel very grateful to Doan's Kidney Pills for the benefit they brought me.
My back was very lame and there was a constant pain in my back.
Doan's Kidney Pills went at once to the root of my trouble and entirely relieved me. I have not the slightest hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, as I know they live up to all the claims made for them."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50c.
Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—
Doan's—and take no other.

A Brief Tribute

The death of Judge M. C. Sanley was a loss to the Judiciary and to the Commonwealth. His brilliant career, on the State and Federal Bench, is well known, and having admired him for years, I only desire to testify to those superior traits and qualifications which gave him eminence and which were in demand and valuable, like gold and precious jewels, because so rare.

He was free from guile and deceit, treachery and prejudice possessed of a rich store of legal knowledge, together with scientific and general information, which was always imparted in a clear and concise manner in rendering his opinions and judgments he manifested no inordinate desire for wealth or distinction and spurned the overtures of the flatterer and the applause of the public. With courage of a Caesar, the eloquence of a Webster or Calhoun, and the logic and discernment of Jefferson or Clay he was led by pure impulses and ennobling motives, and was never happier than when his conduct was approved by his own enlightened conscience.
When considered with those who opposed his ideals, he was as a rushing torrent compared with a stagnant pool or the light of the sun compared with a twinkle of a distant star.

The language of Holy Writ, "Know ye not that there is a prince and great man fallen this day in Israel?" would apply with a change of time and place.

His freedom from factional alliance, his fidelity to his friends, and his manner of dispensing justice to rich and poor, friend and foe alike deared him to the people. Hence the sorrow over his passing away is not confined to relatives, but the people, throughout the country, feel keenly the loss as he guarded their interests against the thrusts of designing and unscrupulous individuals and factions that seek gain and distinction, even at the sacrifice of the general welfare.
The truth of this assertion is manifest. Official corruption is the bane of our country, and it exists under the guise of honest intention.

Let us cultivate those sterling traits of character and high ideals which made him famous.

M. D. HUGHES.

YOU CAN BUY

Your coal cheaper right now than any time in the year.

Let us fill your bins without F O X RIDGE COAL at 13
cts per bushel.

Clean Coal;

No Slack.

Phone 11.

J. H. Baughman & Co.

If you have anything to sell in the

STOCK LINE

—Take to—

Nunneley's New Stock Yards

He buys and sells every day in the year except Sunday. Bring on your stock. Best market in the State with plenty of

Skin Affections

WHETHER ON INFANT OR GROWN PERSON CURED BY ZEMO AND ZEMO SOAP

An Unusual Offer.

The man at the drug store says to every person, be it man, woman or child, who has an irritated, tender or itching skin to come to our store and procure a bottle of ZEMO and a cake of ZEMO soap and if you are not entirely satisfied with the results, come back and get your money. So confident are we of the efficacy of this clean, simple treatment, that we make you this unusual offer.

ZEMO is a clear liquid for external use that has cured so many cases of eczema, pimples, dandruff and other forms of skin eruption. ZEMO and ZEMO soap are the most economical as well as the cleanest and most effective treatment for affections of the skin or scalp, whether on infant or grown person. Pennys Drug Store

Moreland.

Little Flora Dressler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dressler, aged 12 years died of typhoid fever last Thursday.

Mrs. N. J. Cone has returned from a visit in Central Ohio.

Mr. Robert Ford sold a bunch of feeding steers to W. H. Lillard at Danville at 5c per pound.

Miss Ethel Cone and Miss Lizzie
Evans attended the Perryville fair.

The ball game between Moreland and Hustonville resulted in 16 scores for Moreland and 3 for Hustonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Benice Gover, of Somerset, are visiting their son R. L. Gover, here.

Mr. J. P. Mayfield deputy counsel, of Somerset, is visiting the Moreland Camp of Modern Woodmen.

The Modern Woodmen Camp of this place, will attend the Somerset fair in abody, September 1, and will have an old fashion barbecue on the grounds and at night retire to the hall and initiate 50 candidates into Modern Woodmen of America.

Mr. Wm. Newell sold his farm of about 160 acres for $100 an acre. It is known as the Joe Coffee farm.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by him.

WALDEN, KIRKMAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
HALL'S CATARRH CURE is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

We Have This Season

The Hoosier Drill

With All the Latest Improvements

We can make it to your interest to pay us a call.

FARMERS—Read This if You Have Sheep.

More Wool—More
Lambs—More Mutton

That's where profits are in sheep raising, but you cannot get the big profits unless you keep your animals free from worms.

SAL-VET

will positively clean out the worms, not only in your sheep, but in every other animal on your place. This wonder working remedy will destroy and expel every last worm, leaving the animal free to digest and assimilate every ounce of food it eats.
Sal-Vet is a wonderful tonic and conditioner. It costs but 1-12 of a cent a day per head to feed.

Sal-Vet is manufactured by the S. R. Fell Company,
Cleveland, O.

Sal-Vet is sold by

Pence Bros., Stanford, Kentucky.

CALCITE DISCOVERED IN PULASKI.

The discovery of calcite in large quantities on a farm just seven miles west of Somerset, has caused considerable excitement there and steps have already been taken looking to the formation of a company for the development of the mine. The State Experiment Station has assayed the quartz and pronounced it 98 per cent.
pure calcite. It is located in half a mile of the proposed railroad which is now being promoted. Fertilizer rock has also been discovered near this mine, but no official assay has been made of it yet.

Master Joseph Claunch, of Somerset, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W.
Logan Wood on Maple avenue. Mr.
T. W. Walker, of McKinney, has been spending several days with his brother, Mr. R. W. Walker, on Fifth ave-ue.—Danville Advocate.

COLORADO COLUMN

(Harry Broadus Reporter.)
Lincoln county fared well at the Danville colored fair. William Owaley who showed the McCarty string showed seven times and got six blue ties.

Cesar Jarman, o Hustonville got three blue ties out of five shows.

Rufus Ellis, of Louisville, is here on business. Geo. B. Harris is attending the Harrodsburg fair. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Woods who have lived in Bonneyville have moved to town and are living in Frank Adkins' house on Hustonville street.

Preaching at the Baptist church every Sunday. Sunday school at 9
A. M., Morning services 11 A. M., Educational meeting at 6 P. M., night services at 7 P. M., Rev. A. L. Caulder pastor. Misses Minnie B. and Lizzie Bailey went over to Harrodsburg to attend the fair yesterday.

Rev. F. M. Turner, of Lexington, will preach at the A. M. E. church Sunday. Mrs. Mattie Lewis went up to Richmond Monday to see her sister Mrs. Mary Alice Moore who is on the sick list. Mrs. Harvey Logan, went up to Crab Orchard to spend a week with her sister, Mrs. Geo. Tucker. Mr. Frank Peyton, of Indianapolis came home Sunday night to spend two or three weeks with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Alex Peyton.
Mrs. Henry Saulter is visiting her brother Jesse Myers in Lancaster this week. Barnes Williams returned to Indianapolis Sunday after a week's visit to his relatives and friends.
Miss Katie Haynes arrived Saturday night to spend a few weeks with her sister Mrs. Harriett Salter and others. Vance Salter came home from Lexington Saturday night where he has been working for the last three months with his mind made up to remain in God's country the rest of his days.

WALK - - OVER - - SHOES

Are to-day the most extensively advertised footwear in the world. A pretty big statement, but it is true. Manufactured in every leather used in footwear and in almost every style conceivable at $3.50, $4, $4.50 and $5 the pair. We believe them to be the best wearing and best looking man's shoe made to-day.

H. J. McRoberts.

G. L. Penny R. H. Coffey E. R. Coleman

Ice Cream Soda Water Phosphates Grape Juice

And a Large List of Genuine Thirst Quenchers At PENNY'S DRUG STORE,
Stanford, Kentucky.

J. L. Beazley & Co.,

Undertakers and Embalmers. Also Dealers in Furniture, Mattings, Rugs. They will exchange Furniture for all kinds of Stock. Give Them a Call. Prices Right.

STANFORD, - KENTUCKY

Harry Jacobs,

Dealer in and Manufacturer of Marble and Granite Monuments.

Markers and Posts, Cemetery and Lawn
Vases and Settees. Office and works, Mc-Kinney, Ky.

J. C. McClary,

Undertaker and Embalmer.
STANFORD, - KY.
Home Phone 107. - Home Phone 75.

W. A. TRIBBLE,

Furniture and Undertaking.
Day Phone 28.
Night Phone 133.
Stanford, Kentucky.

CONCRETING

We are in position to do all kinds of concreting, such as Block Work, Pavements and, in fact, we can make any thing from a house down to a fence post. We can serve you promptly and guarantee first-class work and material. Call and get our prices before you buy your material at least.

PHILLIPS BROS.,
Stanford, Ky.

When Hungry

GO TO

Carson's Restaurant Lancaster, Street
Stanford, K.

Meals served at all hours up to 11:30 p. m.
Best place in Stanfor for a good quick meal.

Cooking to suit our customers our specialty.
Splendid new line of fancy Groceries.

Hot Coffee, Sandwiches, pies, Butter milk and sweet milk, etc., at all times.

W. A. CARSON, Prop.

B. D. CARTER,

New Livor.
Depot Street,
Phone 96.
STANFORD, KENTUCKY.

The Styles

Are the newest New York creations.
The Coats are the New 32 to 34 inch.
The Skirts pleated from the knee down.
Prices range from $16.50 to $32.50.
Come and look.

You'll Be Carried Completely Away

With the Style, Quality and Reasonable Prices of our first showing of New Fall Tailored Suits.
One thing that will strike you above any other feature of these goods is the Elegant Workmanship.

SEVERANCE & SON, Stanford, Kentucky.

There is a new line of 25c box papers, special values at Penny's Drug Store.

PERSONALS.

Mr. J. H. Baughman made a business trip to London on Wednesday.
Mrs. S. P. Stagg, of Lexington, the guest of friends here.

Miss Kit Huffman is visiting Mrs. Jamie Carpenter in Crab Orchard.

Master William Walton's friends are glad to hear that he is improving from his serious illness with typhoid fever.—Lexington Herald.

Miss Prill Newburn of Hustonville, and Miss Elizabeth Adams, of Green-ville, Texas, have returned from a visit to Mrs. Rodman Keenon in Harrodsburg.

Miss Lella Wheeler, of Nashville, and Miss Annabel Wheeler, of Maysville, are guests of the family of Mr. Charles Wheeler at Hustonville.
Mrs. Logan Woods has been the recent guest of her sister, Mrs. J. M. Mount in Lancaster. Mrs. Jean Warren and daughter, Miss Letitia Warren, visited relatives in Harrodsburg Monday.—Danville Messenger.

Lincoln county relatives were grieved this week to learn of the critical illness of Mrs. Luther Givens in Harrodsburg. Mr. and Mrs. Givens moved from Lincoln county to Harrodsburg a number of years ago. Both are natives of this county.

Mr. C. R. Coleman returned to Pineville on Wednesday after a short visit to his family here.

Miss Fannie Sparks was here between trains on Wednesday en route to her home in Mt. Vernon, from Danville.

Mr. R. W. Hocker, of Kansas City, and children, Misses Lucy, Sarah and Margaret arrived Thursday to make a visit to his brother, Mr. J. S. Hocker and family.

Miss Minnie Straub went to Cincinnati on Thursday to buy her fall millinery. Miss Dora Straub will meet her there, having just returned from abroad.

Miss Mary Dunn, of Danville, is the guest of Mrs. J. W. Baughman.

Miss Belle Root, of Danville, is the guest of Mrs. J. C. Hays.

Mr. and Mrs. James Menefee left this morning for Crab Orchard, where they will spend a week.—Danville Advocate.

Mr. George Hopper is back from a visit to Perryville.

Mr. Joe H. White, of Dallas Texas, is here on a visit to friends and relatives.

Miss Elizabeth Sallee entertained with a porch dance last evening in honor of Miss Virginia Portwood, of Lexington, and Miss Francis Sparks, of Mt. Vernon. About 15 couples were present. Delightful refreshments were served. Miss Ruth Allen is visiting in Stanford and Hustonville. Mrs. Edwin P. Morrow and son, Charles, Miss Stella May and Attorney Ben Waddle are at Crab Orchard Springs.—Somerset Times.

The following ladies from here attended the Baptist Association at Hustonville on Tuesday: Mesdames Jesse Wearen, Mary Penny, A. C. Alford, E. J. Brown, A. P. Hunn, J. S. Rice, Mary Dillion and Misses Marie Mahony and Lizzie Davison.

Mrs. Blackerby, who is visiting her sister Mrs. Will Bright, underwent a slight operation on Tuesday and much to the delight of her many friends is doing nicely.

Miss Elizabeth McDearmon, who has been the charming guest of Miss Berta Jean Penny, has returned to her home in St. Louis, Mo.

Misses Kate Denton and Harriett Uppington have returned to their home in Lexington after a visit to Miss Minnie Woods.

Misses Linda Miller and Dora Straub have landed in New York after a three months trip abroad. They are expected home in a few days.

Misses Edna and Hallie Lipps, of Hustonville have gone to Baltimore where they will study the latest creations in millinery before taking positions as trimmers.

Mr. Will Severance was in the city this week buying his fall goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Eads have rented rooms from Mrs. Sue Yeager on Lancaster street and will move to them at once.

Harry Lackey and Gene Aldridge of Lancaster, took the train here Wednesday evening for Kansas City.

Mrs. Fred Wachenberger who has been ill is somewhat better.

Mr. Sam Robinson has been sick for several days.

Mrs. Mary Dunn and Miss Mary Elizabeth Watts, of Louisville, have returned home after a visit to Misses Mattie and Bettie Paxton.

Miss Hattie Jean O'Bannon, of Dallas, Texas, is the attractive guest of Miss Roberta O'Bannon.

Miss Jennie and Mr. Warren Hocker have returned from a delightful visit to relatives in Missouri and other points in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith and family, of Jellico, Tenn., have returned to their home after a visit to Mrs. R. B. McKinney at McKinney.

Miss Prill Newburn and Frances Adams, of Hustonville, were guests this week of Miss Annie McKinney. Terrill Wilcox who has been ill with typhoid fever at his home in the Dix river section, is much improved.

John H. Shanks left last night for Columbus Ga., where he will be engaged in the mule and stock buying and handling business. His wife will join him a little later.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Hunt, of the Hubble section, are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a fine boy in their home.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lake are extending congratulations upon the arrival of a beautiful little daughter in their home.

Miss Lettie May McRoberts, of Lancaster, visited Mrs. H. J. McRoberts here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Menefee, of Danville, are here with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Menefee.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Hill and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wearen attended the Baptist Association at Hustonville on Wednesday.

The Current Events Club was delightfully entertained by Miss Pauline Hocker on last Thursday afternoon at her home on Somerset street. About twelve or fourteen members were present and the subject for the afternoon "World's Workers." The principal paper was read by Mrs. Will Grimes and was much appreciated. The subject for the next meeting will be Book Reviews. Delightful refreshments were served and they adjourned till the next meeting which will be with Mrs. P. M. McRoberts.

Congressman Harvey Helm was in Shelbyville this week, attending the fair and giving his "constituents" the glad hand.

Mrs. Jennie Ely, of Stanford, is spending several days with Mrs. Marvin H. Adams.—Danville Advocate.

Miss Cynthia Bell, of Corbin, is the guest of Miss Louella White.

Mrs. William Moreland, of Lexington, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Shanks.

Mr. Sam Burca is here from his home at Tuscaloosa, Ala., the guest of his mother, Mrs. Mary Burch.

Misses Elizabeth Sharp and Katie Case, of Brodhead, and Miss Elizabeth Vermillion, of Danville, are visiting Miss Ada Wesley through the fair.—Liberty News.

Misses Florence and Flossie Taylor, of Danville, are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Telford.—Liberty News.

Miss Berta Jean Penny has gone to Graysville, Tenn., to visit her uncle, Mr. James M. Saufley and wife.

Miss Frances Tomlinson, of Gardard, was a guest last week, of Mr. Will Baker. Misses Marion Thornton and Elizabeth Ball are visiting Miss Eleanor Tevis of Shelby City.—Versailles Sun.

Mrs. J. S. Rice entertained informally but delightfully at cards on Thursday afternoon in honor of her guest, Mrs. W. S. Sheridan, of Louisville. The home was attractive with cut flowers and potted ferns. After the game, which was a very enjoyable one, an ice cream was daintily served, the colors being in pink and white.

Miss Susan Fisher Woods, having the highest score, won the first prize, a dainty hand-painted fan and the trophy was won by the guest, Mrs. Sheridan, and was a pretty hand-painted plate.

Among the guests were Mesdames J. W. Alcorn, E. P. Woods, Annie Engelman, Nannie Woods Kitchen, J. N. Saunders, J. F. Holdam, of Crab Orchard, W. M. Morris, of Oklahoma, S. D. Bartlett, Bettie Bush, J. W. Ireland, G. G. Perry, S. M. Saufley, E. J. Brown, J. F. Cummins, Carroll Shanks, T. A. Rice and Misses Sotie Alcorn, Kate Alcorn, Pat Alcorn, Lucile Cooper, Clara Cooper, Frances Cooper, Sue Rout, Mary Bruce, Sue Woods, Sue Taylor Engelman.

Short Local News.

Lost, ladies' coat on Lancaster pike. Return to this office and receive reward.

For Sale.—300 bushels of large onions. Thompson Bros., King's Mountain, Ky. 48-4

A new supply of table ware at the Country Store.

Lost, a pair of gold frame glasses in Stanford, Saturday evening. Return to this office.

A nice line wagon and buggy whips at the Country Store.

A new supply of dollar watches at the Country Store.

For Sale.—The house on East Main street known as the Pennington place. Apply to T. W. Pennington.*

For Rent.—Four room cottage on Darst Street. See J. C. Florence at Post office. 52-2

Lost.—Black bear shoot; weight 75 pounds; nip off left ear. Please return to Steve Rice.

Under a good picture of him the Danville Advocate of Tuesday said: Hon. Peter M. McRoberts, of Stanford, spent several hours yesterday in Danville and stated to friends that he felt certain that Governor Willson would appoint him to fill out the vacancy in the circuit judgeship occasioned by the sudden death of Judge M. C. Sautley. He is a competent man for the exalted position and is a brother of Mr. W. B. McRoberts, of this city.

TOOK ALL HIS MONEY.

Often all a man earns goes to do-ach, Liver or Kidney trouble that Dr. King's New Life Pills would quickly cure at slight cost. Best for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation, Jaundice, Malaria and Debility 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

Tobacco Savers

I bought and used 20 of the Dixon Tobacco Savers in 1907, and from my experience with them in two seasons, I feel that I can not afford to try to raise tobacco without them. The tobacco can be hauled to the barn as soon as cut and all danger of house burn is eliminated. They economize space; at least one-fourth can be put in the barns. The worms drop off. The tobacco cures much brighter in color and so commands a much higher price.

N. T. ARMSTRONG

President Scott County Warehouse Co.
Georgetown, Ky., June 29, 1909.

For Sale By

W. H. HIGGINS,

STOP IN AND SEE IF HE HASN'T SOMETHING YOU WANT

Stanford, Kentucky.

The Material

They come in the new Wales Serge and Basket Weaves, also in Broadcloths. The colors are Black, Navy, Brown, Plum, Green, Grey and Leather.
Prices range from $16.50 to $32.50.
Come and Look.

Lost.—Box of Irish crochet left on L. & N. Eastbound train last week. Reward for return to Mrs. W. H. Wearen.

The six shares of First National Bank stock advertised in the Interior Journal were sold to W. H. Brady at $150 a share. This stock is a glittered investment.

Mrs. Starks Glasscock died at her home in Shelby City this week after an illness of several days of typhoid fever. She was a most excellent lady and was about 55 years of age. Deceased is survived by her husband and one daughter Mrs. Nimrod Sinkhorn, of Cincinnati.

FROM SICKNESS TO "EXCELLENT HEALTH."

So says Mrs. Chas. Lyon, Peoria, Ill., "I found in your Foley Kidney Pills a prompt and speedy cure for back-ache and kidney trouble which both-ached me for many months. I am now enjoying excellent health which I owe to Foley's Kidney Pills. Shugars and Tanner."

Attention!—My store will be open for the next three weeks and I will have for sale, retail or wholesale, the remainder of my stock of hardware and groceries at and below cost. Now is the time to save some money. G. D. Hopper. 32-2

For sale or rent, my home consisting of four rooms, good porch and all necessary out buildings, 4 acres of land in connection. Mrs. G. A. Hurst, Rowland, Ky.

There have been a great many big sales in this section lately, but there has been none in recent years that has been the equal of the two big dispersal sales which will be held here on September 6 and 7. Read the

A summer tonic that braces the body and brain, cools the system. Regulates your stomach kidneys and liver. That's what Holman's Rocky Mountain tea will do. 35c tea or tablets. Shugars and Tanner.

The tax books for 1910 are now ready. Settle now and avoid the rush and confusion of waiting until the last day. W. L. McCarty, Sheriff.

Does not Color the Hair

Ingredients of Ayer's Hair Vigor
Sulphur. Destroys germs that cause dandruff and falling hair. Cures rashes and eruptions of scalp.
Glycerin. Softening, healing. Food to the hair-balls.
Quinin. A strong tonic, antiseptic, stimulant.
Sodium Chlorid. Cleansing, quiets irritation of scalp.
Capicum. Increases activity of glands.
Sage. Stimulant, tonic. Domestic remedy of high merit.
Alcohol. Stimulant, antiseptic. Water. Perfume.

Show this formula to your doctor. Ask him if there is a single injurious ingredient. Ask him if he thinks Ayer's Hair Vigor, as made from this formula, is the best preparation you could use for falling hair, or for dandruff. Let him decide. He knows.
J. C. AYER COMPANY, Lowell, Mass.

- TIN FRUIT CANS! -

The Kind
You Want
For Canning Tomatoes.

W. E. PERKINS,

CRAB ORCHARD, KENTUCKY

L. R. Hughes T. W. Humble W. O. Martin

NEW FALL GINGHAMS

We have just received very beautiful line of New Fall Gingham. Band trimming and colored Embroidery to match. Also a full line of blue grass Madras in all colors. Call and see them before you buy.

HUGHES, MARTIN & CO.,

Dry Goods, Notions, Shoes,
STANFORD, KENTUCKY

Queen Quality SHOE

Announcement

STYLES better than ever. Factory equipped with new machinery throughout. All methods of manufacturing improved 50%—style in direct proportion—value too. Smart—Stylish and Flexible to the last degree. The new models on display today. You're cordially invited to inspect them.

Cummins & Wearen,

STANFORD, KENTUCKY.

This store is the home of Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes

Appalachia Exposition.

Greatest Ever Held in The South.

At Knoxville, Tenn.,
SEPTEMBER 12, TO OCTOBER 12.

Magnificent and mammoth buildings.

More to see and amuse than ever offered at a Southern exposition.

$10,000 in purses for running and trotting races.

$10,000 in aerial exploitation, by machines of Wright Brothers, Stroebel and other aeranauts. "See the air Ships."

25,000 in matchless fire works grand battle of the clouds and Pain's "Fall of Pompeii."

Mulball's famous wild west and 25 other shows of note.

Greatest bands in all America.

ADMISSION TO GROUNDS 50 CENTS
IN DAY. AFTER 6 P. M., 25 CENTS.

Remember These Special Dates.

Live stock and races... Sept. 12-1 Night horse show... Sept. 13, 14, 15.
Bench Show... Sept. 22, 23, 24.
Pigeon and pet stock show... Sept. 27 Oct. 1
Poultry show... Oct. 5-12
Wright Brother's airship days... Sept. 22-29
Stroebel's dirigible balloon. Every day... Sept. 12, Oct. 12.
Pain's fire works every evening... Sept. 12, Oct. 12.
Battle of the clouds... Sept. 19-24
Fall of Pompeii... Sept. 26, Oct. 1.

Special rates every day, and remarkably low railroad rates to Knoxville and return on Tuesday and Thursday as follows:

Stanford .....$3.50
Moreland .....$3.70
Junction City .....$3.70

See This Great Exposition.

W. J. OLIVER, ***** President.

FARM SALE AT AUCTION!

As administrator of the estate of B. M. Swope, deceased, I will on the premises about 2 1/2 miles west of Bryantsville, on the Fisher's Ford road on WEDNESDAY, AUG. 31, 1910 sell to the highest and best bidder the following property, to-wit:

The fine Blue Grass farm of 252 acres located near Bryantsville. The place is in a high state of cultivation, finely improved, well watered, well fenced and is a farm that has few if any equals in the Blue Grass country. This farm must be sold so that the proceeds can be divided among the heirs. The sale will begin promptly at 10 a. m. Terms will be made known on day of sale. Also at the same time and place the following additional property will be sold at auction:

5 shares of stock in the bank of Bryantsville, 10 head of sheep, four steers, 10 milch cows, 2 heifers, one bull, 1 bay mule 1 lot of hogs, 1 bay mare, 1 spotted pony, 1 bay horse, 1 gray mule, 5 calves, 1 five-year-old horse, 1 spring wagon 1 farm wagon, harrow, wheat drill, harrows, plows and numerous other farming implements, one rubber tire buggy and harness, one piano, and piano player, household and kitchen furniture and other articles too numerous to mention.

R. K. SWOPE, Adm'r

of B. M. Swope, Deceased.
Col. I. M. Dunn, Auctioneer.

TURNPIKE CONTRACT

The undersigned committee of the Lincoln county Fiscal court will on Aug. 31st 1910 at 1 o'clock p. m., open sealed bids for 50 rods of gravel or stone to be spread on the Kings Mountain and Duncan pike.

10 rods to be spread, beginning at John McKee's line and ending where the top dressing on said pike now ends, at places to be designed by the turnpike supervisor or by Squire J. A. Singleton and 40 rods to be spread on the bed rocks beginning at or near Mrs. Sims' farm, this 40 rods to be spread solid 6 inches thick and eight feet wide.

Prospective contractors will state in their bids whether the stone is to be crushed by hand or machine and from what place or places the stone is to be gotten. Crushed stone to be of a size that will go through a two inch ring. If tunnel rock is to be used to be broken sufficient to go through a three inch ring.

Bids will be received for gravel, crushed stone or stone from tunnel dumps.

All bids to be sent sealed to G. B. Cooper, Clerk, Stanford, Ky.
J. A. Singleton and W. S. Burch, Committee.

Commencing Aug. 19 the Q. & C. Railway will sell excursion tickets on Fridays and Saturdays for 10 days to Spring City for Rhea Springs.

Faint?

Have you weak heart, dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals? Or do you experience pain over the heart, shortness of breath on going up-stairs and the many distressing symptoms which indicate poor circulation and bad blood? A heart tonic, blood and body-builder that has stood the test of over 40 years of cures is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The heart becomes regular as clock-work. The red blood corpuscles are increased in number—and the nerves in turn are well fed. The arteries are filled with good rich blood. That is why nervous debility, irritability, fainting spells, disappear and are overcome by this alternative extract of medicinal roots put up by Dr. Pierce without the use of alcohol. Ask your neighbor. Many have been cured of scrofulous conditions, ulcers, "fever-sores," white swellings, etc., by taking Dr. Pierce's Discovery. Just the refreshing and vitalizing tonic needed for excessive tissue waste, in convalescence from fevers or for run-down, anæmic, thin-blooded people. Stick to this safe and sane remedy and refuse all "just as good" kinds offered by the dealer who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing will do you half as much good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

A Base Ball Courtship.

They were seated in the parlor and the lights were burning dim; He was a diamond hero—she a fan quite fair and trim, But they knew not, as he opened up the game by murmuring love, That father was the umpire on the stairway just above.

"I love your form," he murmured first; "with me you've made a hit; You've got the curves, you've got the speed, and you are looking fit. Now, if you wish, my turtle dove, I will make a hit likewise. Won't you improve my single state and make a sacrifice?"

"I'll never play too far off base," he murmured in her ear; "My Salary Whip has got the stuff to put them over, dear. Just give the signal for a steal and I'll no longer roam, And when I slide into the plate please call me safe at home."

"I've got to have the dope complete," the maiden softly sighed; "Show me your batting average in Mr. Bradstreet's Guide. It takes a lot of speed these days with cunning and intrigue To win a battle now and then with the Grocer's League.

"But give errorless support"—his heart here took a bound; "And let me live in Big League style and I may come around. Unwrap the tangle from the dope and you can cop the bet; We'll play the double header, pal, on any date you set."

He started warming up at once and with a happy sigh He whipped a fast one around her neck—the other was waist high; But here the umpire butted in—she said "Oh, father, please Don't call him out, he's showing me the way they work the squeeze."

The old man gave an irate snort and said "I'll help the fun By showing him another play that's called the Lit and run." He swung like Wagner at his best—a soul-inspiring clout— The courting man slid down the steps the old man yelled "You're out!"

Win With Money

IS SUGGESTION OF CONGRESS-MAN HELM'S OPPONENT

(Louisville Times.)

Following a speech by Richard L. Ewell, candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket from the Eighth Congressional district of Kentucky in which Mr. Ewell said that the way to turn democratic votes into the Republican fold, was to spend money—"judiciously," Senator W. O. Bradley moved that the session of the State Central Committee being held at the Galt house this afternoon, be made executive and the representatives of the press excluded.

According to Mr. Ewell it will be an easy matter in his district to change the 1,600 Democratic majority into the Republican column, if $10 bills and fifty cent pieces are distributed where they will do the most good.

"There is more than one way to get a vote," explained Mr. Ewell to the committeemen. "Money, if it is used right and at the proper time, is an excellent argument for the Republican party. The only thing necessary to compass the defeat of the Democratic party this November is to get more votes than the Democrats. I do not say that the practices of the olden days, when money was used freely should be resorted to, but I do know that that was a mighty effective manner of turning defeat into victory."

Senator Bradley was anxious and in at ease during the time Mr. Ewell was expressing his plans for defeating the Democratic nominees for Congress this fall in Kentucky. As soon as Mr. Ewell, the 78-year-old candidate of the Eighth district, finished taking, Senator Bradley said that it would be advisable to exclude the press and all disinterested parties from the meeting. When put in the form of a motion it was carried without a dissenting voice.

THEY HAVE A DEFINITE PURPOSE.

Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief in cases of Kidney and bladder ailments. Mrs. Rose Glaser, Terre Haute, Ind., tells the result in her case "After suffering for many years from a serious case of Kidney trouble and spending much money for so-called cures, I found Foley Kidney Pills the only medicine that gave me a permanent cure. I am again able to be up and attend to my work. I shall never hesitate to recommend them all." Shugars and Tanner.

BURGLARS AT JUNCTION.

Burglars gained entrance to the general store of W. C. Surber in Junction City last week by beating down the rear door. An attempt was then made to break open the safe but in this the robbers failed. It is thought that they must have been frightened away. No goods were taken so far as can be observed. The thieves were evidently looking for money. It is thought that they are the same parties that broke into Galbraith's store last week.

Some typewriter advantages which, when investigated, inevitably lead to the selection of the Smith Premier—

- Removable and interchangeable Platens
- Reversible Tabulator Rack
- Ball Bearing Carriage
- Complete Control from Keyboard
- Simple Stencil Cutting Device
- Drop Forged Type Bars
- Perfect Line Lock
- Bichrome Ribbon, Uniform Touch
- Ball Bearing Type Bar
- Column Finder and Paragrapher
- Decimal Tabulator
- Perfect Erasing Facilities
- Interchangeable Carriages
- Right and Left Carriage Release Levers
- Swinging Marginal Rack
- Visible Writing, Protected Ribbon
- Gear Driven Carriages
- Ribbon Controlled from Keyboard
- Variable and Universal Line Spacer
- Perfect Dust Guard
- Back Space Lever
- Carriage Retarder
- Improved Marginal Stops

Escapement, Speediest ever devised Complete, Straight Line Keyboard and A Key for Every Character.

SPEED

Col. James W. Guest

SUGGESTED FOR LEGISLATURE
BY AN OLD TIME DEMOCRAT.

Crab Orchard, Aug. 18

There will be many matters of great importance to come before the next session of the Kentucky Legislature besides the election of United States Senator, and it behooves the democrats in every county in the State to pick out good men to represent them in the next General Assembly.

Lincoln county has been ably represented in the last two sessions of the lower body by Hon. W. H. Shanks, of Stanford, a young man of ability and integrity, who is a credit to any community.

It occurs to the writer that it is now time for the East End of the county to send a representative, and no better man could be chosen to carry the banner of Democracy to victory, than that splendid old soldier and affable Gentleman of the old school, Col. James W. Guest of Crab Orchard. That Col. Guest is a man of marked ability, none could deny that have ever come in contact with him. A keen sense of humor that only smart men possess, and very few of them. To possess a keen sense of humor is to know mankind; to know their many weaknesses and petty conceits.

Col. Guest is endowed with great gift to a marked degree, and he would attain a place in the Legislature such as Proctor Knott enjoyed in Congress. But aside from his many other splendid qualities, Col. Guest is a man who could not be approached or influenced by the lobbyists and corruptionists who infest the lobbies of the Capitol, and his broad view and keen insight would readily detect the "Joker" in many of the bills that are introduced in the Legislature for the benefit of the greedy corporations that attempt to dictate the laws of the Commonwealth.

We still love to honor the men who fought beneath the folds of the battle-stained cross in the days of long ago when every man defended his opinion and principles with his life. The years are fleeting and as the lengthening shadows gather, let us honor these white haired heroes while we may. Col. Guest fought for his country in his youth and was as gallant an old "horse thief" as ever crossed the border with Morgan and spread terror and consternation in the hearts of the Yankees. Three cheers for Colonel Guest! Nominate him by acclamation and when the Legislature convenes, you will find that Lincoln county will be represented by the best man in the General Assembly. He was a great friend of the lamented Judge M. C. Saulley.

A Democrat of 1860.

To keep your health sound to avoid the ills of advancing years to conserve your physician forces for a ripe and healthful old age, guard your kidneys by taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. Shugars and Tanner.

J. H. KENNEDY,

RICHMOND, ***** KENTUCKY

Will be Glad to Serve any of his Lincoln County Friends and Acquaintances.

REPRESENTING PETER BURGHARD, OF LOUISVILLE, WILL BE GLAD TO EXHIBIT DESIGNS OF MONUMENTS AT REASONABLE PRICES. ALL WORK GUARANTEED TO GIVE SATISFACTION

The Lincoln County National Bank Of Stanford, Kentucky.

CAPITAL.....$ 50,000.00
SURPLUS.....$ 50,000.00
RESOURCES.....$340,000.00

S. H. SHANKS, PRESIDENT; W. M. BRIGHT, CASHIER,
J. B. PAXTON, VICE-PRESIDENT; J. W. BROCKSTER, ASST. CASH
H. C. CARPENTER, BOOKKEEPER HAYS FOSTER, CLERK.
DIRECTORS:

W. O. Walker, Stanford; S. H. Shanks, Stanford; Geo. W. Carter, Stanford
John B. Foster, Stanford; W. H. Shanks, Stanford; T. C. Rankin, Lancaster; J. B. Paxton, Stanford; W. H. Taylor, Gilberts Creek; R. L. Hubble, Lancaster; W. H. Cummins, Preachersville; Lilburn Gooch, Gilberts Creek.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, STANFORD, KENTUCKY

ORGANIZED IN 1882.
CAPITAL STOCK, $50,000.
SURPLUS EARNED, $22,000.
HAS PAID IN DIVIDENDS, $216,500
Combines Absolute Safety with Satisfactory Service. Modern Safety Deposit Boxes for Use of our Customers. We Solicit Your Account.

OFFICERS.

J. S. Hocker, President,
S. T. Harris, Vice-President;
H. C. Baughman, Cashier.
W. W. Saunders, Ind. Bookkeeper
J. R. Harris, Bookkeeper

DIRECTORS.

F. Reid, J. H. Baughman,
M. D. Elmore, J. M. Pettus,
H. C. Baughman, J. F. Cummins,
S. T. Harris, Geo. C. Robinson,
E. C. Walton, J. S. Hocker,
W. H. Murphy.

RURAL TELEPHONES.

MR. FARMER: Make your home as modern for your family as a ice, residence, and place yourself in a position to get the latest market quotations at any time. This can be accomplished by means of our telephone service which you and your neighbors can get for a sum that is small compared with the benefits received. Call or address our nearest office or write direct to headquarters, Nashville, Tenn., for information regarding our special "Farmers' Line" rate. If you are not at present enjoying telephone service, we can immediately interest you. Our lines cover the States of Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana and the Southern portion of Indiana and Illinois.
EAST TENNESSEE TEL. & TEL. CO.
(INCORPORATED)

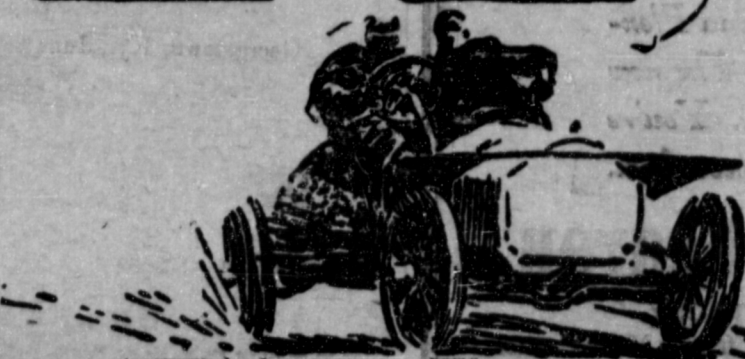

A single motion is quicker to make than two.

Only one motion is needed to make any character desired on the complete, straight-line, key-for-every-character keyboard of the easy action light running Model 10

Smith Premier

Write for information to The Smith Premier Typewriter Co., Inc.
Syracuse, N. Y. Branches everywhere

The Island Of Regeneration

(Continued from last Friday.)

"When kneeling by her side he took her once more within his arms."

"But you have not said!" she began at last, "that you loved me."

"There is no word," he said, softly, "in that speech that you have taught me which is equal to what I feel. You don't know how I have looked upon you and longed for you ever since you made me know and feel that I was a man with a man's soul. Night after night I have watched you as you went to your nook in the rocks. But that you have taught me honor and consideration, what it is to be a gentleman. I had followed you and caught you in the dark within my arms."

"She laid her hand upon his breast and looked at him feelingly, entreatingly, with touching consciousness of his strength and her weakness."

"What I have taught you," she asked, "you will not forget?"

"Never! Never!"

He released her waist and took her hand and kissed it. There was as much passion in the pressure of his lips upon her hand as there was in the beat of his heart against her own, she felt.

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

"Not I," she answered, piteously, "but you. I have no strength when you are by. Since that moment when you kissed me, you are the master and the man, but you will respect me in my helplessness?"

"As if you were God in heaven," cried the man, raising his hand as one who makes a vow. "You are to me everything that is pure, that is holy, that is lovely."

"No! No!" she whispered, a look of terror coming into her face.

"Yes," he said, "through you I know God, through you I know woman. You are sacred to me. Never again, unless you give me leave, will I press my lips to yours; never again, unless you say I may, will I take you in my arms; never again will I even touch your hand. Indeed, indeed, I cannot do these things. And yet I will love you in ways of which you cannot dream so long as I can draw the breath of life."

"You," he continued, "will say what is to be done."

He rose to his feet as he spoke and turned away from her and stood with clasped hands and bowed shoulders. In one moment the whole course of their lives had changed. It had taken an earthquake shock to do it, but so terrific had been the submerged fires of mutual passions that a whisper opportunely uttered would have affected the same revolution. She sat and watched him wondering what would be the end of it. She knew at last what love was, not the pale philosophical emotion she had experienced in the cabin of that yacht. God, how she hated that recollection. How she wished that it had never been. If untouched by man she could have been cast upon that island to be given to this man who looked upon her as a goddess. She had told him some of her history, but not the part which was vital. It had been easy not to enlighten him wholly as to that. He knew nothing about conditions. He had never seen a ship or a boat within his recollection, and the story she had settled upon and told him was one that received instant acceptance from him. Indeed there was nothing that she had told him, or could have told him, that he would not implicitly have accepted and believed. The king could do no wrong. She was incarnate truth. And she would have to tell him all now. She would have to put into that pure soul, alive with passionate devotion, admiration, respect, every feeling that can make up the sum of mighty love, this story of evil and shame. There was no help for it. She would have to tell him.

But she could not tell him now, not on this day. She would have a few perfect hours. She would stand for a little while within the vale of Eden. She would look for a little time through the gates of heaven. Tomorrow! To-day she would have and she would enjoy to the full. She rose softly to her feet as well and stepped closer to him. She laid her hand upon his shoulder. She could see the muscles in his arm tighten as he clenched his hands the harder. She turned him gently about and lifted her perfect lips to his. She kissed him again. Her hand sought him; her fingers parted his iron grasp. She drew his arm about her and nestled against him.

"I trust you," she said, "as I love you. I shall be safe with you. You shall not draw away from me in such isolation. You have waited long for kisses like this."

And then the man spoke, the man in him.

"Woman," he said, "yours are the only lips that have been pressed upon mine, save perhaps my mother's as a child. Has any other man ever kissed you?"

She could not lie to him.

"Don't ask me," she said, the futile request.

The man had turned away with a groan. No happiness is unalloyed; no joy comes into our lives that some pain does not dog its footsteps. With love came jealousy before the flood.

"At least," she said, pressing closer to him and he did not repulse her, "I have loved no man but you."

"Oh!" he said, taking her once more within his arms, "that I might know for one moment what is out there, how you lived, who saw you, who followed you, who loved you!"

"I shall tell you," said the woman.

"But you have told me."

"Not all."

"When the rest then?"

"To-morrow. Meanwhile let us enjoy the day—the old, old human prayer, let us enjoy the day despite the morrow—let it suffice that I love you; that I never loved anyone else; that no kisses like to yours have ever been pressed upon my lips, nor I believe not upon the lips of mortal woman. Let us pass the day in happiness together. Come, we must breakfast. We must see what the earthquake has done to our island. We have things to think about, things to do."

"I have nothing to think about but you; nothing to do but to love you."

Hand in hand, they stepped across the sand to the shade of the trees, a royal and a noble couple, the splendid woman nobly planned, fit mate for the godlike man, children of God and Nature, both of them in loose tunics which she had woven from the long soft grass, which left neck and arms bare and fell to knee and were belted in at the waist. Unhindered by any of the degrading or degrading garments of civilization, they were a pair to excite the admiration and envy of the gods.

CHAPTER XI.

The Conscience Quickened.

They had spent the morning together, but not as usual. Things were different, conditions had changed. For the first time in years the daily lesson which she had given him was interrupted. To-day they were both at school with Love for preceptor and such willingness in their hearts as made them ideal pupils. The storm had died away as suddenly as it had arisen. No visible evidence of it was left save the tremendous thunder of the long undulating seas upon the outward barrier. The earthquake had not greatly damaged the island, the fallen cliff, a few prostrate palms here and there, that was all. But there was visible evidence in them of the storm through which they had passed and which still held them in its throes, in the tumult of their souls.

To the man the experience of the morning was absolutely new and to the woman it was so different from what had hitherto transpired that it was practically so. They luxuriated in their emotions. They sat side by side, hand in hand; they walked together, hand in hand. Yet it was the woman who was the holder, the woman who made the advances. The man was not passive. Kiss for kiss, look for look, word for word, touch for touch, he gave, but the initiative was hers not his. He was putting a constraint of steel upon himself. She saw that and was glad. It made her bold. Womanlike she tried and tested the blade that she had forged again and again, growing daring in her immaturity, braver in her trust.

They stood in one part of their wanderings before the door of what had been her cave. Hand in hand they looked down upon the heap of rocks that he had torn away. It was nothing to him; to her it was incredible. She could better estimate what human strength was capable of than he. She had standards of comparison which he lacked.

"It cannot be possible that you lifted that boulder and that one, alone," she said, gazing at him wonderingly.

"At that moment, to release you, I could have torn the rock asunder," he cried, throwing out his arms in a magnificent gesture of strength and force.

She caught his hand with her own and once more pressed her lips within his palm.

"I don't know how to say how much I love you," she cried.

"Say that you will try to care as much for me as I for you and I will be content," he answered.

And so there was a pretty rivalry between them as to which loved the more. In the midst of the strife of tongues the woman spoke. She could not keep away from the subject.

"You love me," she said at last, "because you think me more than I am, because," she ran on in spite of his protesting gesture, checking his denying word, "because you have seen no other woman, because—"

"I will not hear another word," he cried, finding voice at last and stopping her. "I know not woman or man save as I know you and myself, save as you have taught me by the women of whom you have read me in that single book we have, the women of whom you have told me who have played their parts in the world. All of them together are not like you."

"That is because I am alive and here and they are dead and away."

"If they all stood here by me on the sand, if all their excellencies and virtues were centered upon one and she stood by you on the sand, my heart would turn to you. It isn't because you are beautiful. You are beautiful, are you not?"

Poor man, he had no standards of comparison, only the instinct for the lovely.

"Men said so," she answered, smiling at him and blushing in confusion.

"Men?" he cried. "What men?"

"I will tell you to-morrow."

She sighed deeply at the thought of the revelation.

"Well then," he continued, "it isn't because you are beautiful, or because you are wise, or because you are learned, or because you are kind; it is because you are you that I love you."

"And if I were none of these things?"

"I would love you just the same."

"But I am not what you think me in some ways."

"I could never think highly enough of you, I know that."

"No, no, it isn't that. When I tell you—"

She stopped and looked at him paling. After all the greater test was to come then. "To err," she remembered the ancient Latin proverb, "was human; to forgive divine." Would he be human or divine in this trial? Had she so trained him that he could forgive the unforgivable? In more ways than one her happiness depended upon what would be his course. If he forgave her and condoned her fault, their love could have free course if ever opportunity for benison upon it presented. But if he followed the common course of men, not only would any future union between them on the only terms to which she could consent be impossible, but he would kill her heart, her trust in man—sometimes, she wildly believed, her trust in God.

"Nothing, nothing," he repeated, "that you could tell me would make any difference."

So lovers have protested, she recalled, since time and the world began. And yet things told have made differences. What would it do for their future, this revelation of the morrow?

And again she realized that the test, if she herself were compelled to make it, would not be exactly fair, for she would be at once prosecuting attorney, advocate for the defense, even in some phase the passer of judgment. She would be the criminal and the world to him. It would hardly be possible for him to arrive at a correct view and come to a determination unbiased and free. If she could have transported him by some magic power among the children of men, and with them for auditory have told her story, the test would be a true one. What he would do then after having heard the world's voices, the world's appeals, the world's mockeries, would truly determine what he was, and in no other way could that determination be arrived at. Though she strove to be as impartial as divinity, she could not but make her defense coincident with her revelation, her justification at the same time with her condemnation. He knew nothing of life but what she and instinct had taught him, and neither would be safe guides in this emergency. He could protest and she could believe his protests, but unless they were uttered not merely before high heaven but before surrounding men, they would be of little value.

She put this by resolutely at last. We are the creatures of circumstance and environment. She would have to do the best that she could on the morrow. Meanwhile she would, as she had said, enjoy the day. And so the morning hours wore away until the time came for the customary parting. At first she would have abandoned, in the luxury of the new passion, or the new revelation of the old passion, the customary rule, but she still preserved some lingering remains of her common sense and she clearly perceived that it was necessary to go on as they had. Society cannot proceed without its conventions and these simple regulations were their conventions which had to be obeyed. And so they parted. But parted as they had never parted before, torn asunder by their own compliance with their own petty rules, their hearts protesting.

Long before the earthquake they had erected on the topmost hill of the island a huge pile of dead wood from the groves beneath.

When they had parted she had suggested to him—and it was significant that now it was a suggestion; yesterday it would have been a command—that he should take time to ascend the hill and rearrange the great heap of wood which they had built. During all the time that had elapsed since she had been there no sail had whitened the horizon, no curl of smoke had betokened the distant passing of a steamer. But no spot of the globe could forever remain unvisited, she thought, and some day that pile of wood might make a beacon light to call civilization to them. He was glad to comply with her suggestion, glad for occupation, and so he promised and went his way.

When he had disappeared, she turned the edge of the cliff in the secluded amphitheater where her cave fronted the ocean. She threw aside her tunic of woven grass and plunged into the cool, delightful pool, which fortunately the earthquake had not disturbed. Her clothes, the scanty garments she had improvised from her underclothing, had long since worn out. It had not been difficult, however, to plait certain pliable rushes which grew in plenty upon the island, the loose and shapeless garments they both wore. She had used strips torn from what had remained of her clothing for binding and edging and practice had made her dextrous and skillful in the rude weaving. She still preserved, however, the blouse and skirt of serge, her only pair of stockings and the canvas boating shoes. Sometimes in idle moments she tried those shoes on. Fortunately for her, they were loose and easy. Going barefoot three years had enlarged her small and slender feet to something like those human and proper proportions which, from the standpoint of nature at least, had greatly enhanced their beauty. She kept these clothes, she hardly knew why, perhaps for one reason since she had been able to weave the wadded garment so well suited to her needs she had had no use for them; perhaps against the day of the arrival of other civilization than her own.

Greatly refreshed by her bath—and it shows her absolute confidence in him and his worth that interruption never occurred to her; it had never come and therefore it never would—she resumed her tunic and walked toward the cave. The tide was very low. The sands terminated on one side in a rocky ledge where a long arm of the lagoon ran to the foot of the cliff. The cliff had been tremendously shaken, apparently, and she noticed just above the water line a narrow opening. She had thought from noises during storms that there was a hidden cave in the cliff with an opening under the water. She had imagined that possibly she could enter it by diving, but she had never cared to make the attempt, although by this time she had become as much at home in the water or under it as if she had been a native of the south seas. Sometimes in the morning they swam in the lagoon together, oftentimes she swam alone. It was a great pleasure to her and a necessity as well in that low latitude.

Curiosity induced her to inspect more closely this opening near the water's edge. Again throwing aside her garment, she plunged into the arm of the sea and swam boldly toward the cliff. There was just room enough between the water's level and the top of the opening for her head. She found herself in a straight passage-way perhaps eight or ten feet long and as many wide. Cautiously she swam through it and discovered herself in an immense cave. Light filtered through the opening and one or two fissures had been opened here and there, by the earthquake or by some convulsion of nature before, through the rocky wall, invisible on the face of the cliff from the outside but quite distinct within. There was even a stretch of sandy beach on one side. She swam to it, clambered upon it and sat down to rest.

Here was an excellent haven of refuge. Instinctively occurred to her, although a refuge from what she

Here Was an Excellent Haven of Refuge.

for occupation, and so he promised and went his way.

When he had disappeared, she turned the edge of the cliff in the secluded amphitheater where her cave fronted the ocean. She threw aside her tunic of woven grass and plunged into the cool, delightful pool, which fortunately the earthquake had not disturbed. Her clothes, the scanty garments she had improvised from her underclothing, had long since worn out. It had not been difficult, however, to plait certain pliable rushes which grew in plenty upon the island, the loose and shapeless garments they both wore. She had used strips torn from what had remained of her clothing for binding and edging and practice had made her dextrous and skillful in the rude weaving. She still preserved, however, the blouse and skirt of serge, her only pair of stockings and the

Quit Business Sale!

Having formed connections with the Tobacco Warehouses in Danville, we will be compelled to give all of our time to that business after September 15th. Until September 1st. we offer every vehicle in our repository at Actual Cost. All unsold Saturday, September 3rd, will be sold at auction. This stock consists of about 60 vehicles—

BUGGIES and PHAETONS

All new, up-to-date styles, bought this Summer. Not a shopworn job in the house. Come early and get the choice.

SURREYS, ROAD WAGONS.

DANVILLE, KY.

H. C. BRIGHT & COMPANY.

DANVILLE KY.

COOL KITCHEN—
No Heat Except
Where Needed!

DISHES HOT—FOOD WELL COOKED—KITCHEN COOL. NO UNDER-DONE FOOD—NO OVERHEATED KITCHEN IN SUMMER. EVERYTHING HOT WHEN WANTED. HEAT UNDER PERFECT CONTROL AND CONCENTRATED.

THE BLUE FLAME IS ALL HEAT—NO SMOKE—NO ODOR NO DIRT THESE ARE SOME OF THE ADVANTAGES IN USING THE

NEW PERFECTION,
WICK BLUE FLAME
OIL COOK-STOVE!

Every dealer everywhere; if not yours, write for a Descriptive Circular to the nearest agency of

THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY,
(Incorporated.)

Shirts, Collars and Ties,

Biggest Line Ever Brought to Crab Orchard.

L. L. SANDERS,

Crab Orchard, Kentucky.

YOUR CHANCE
For A BARGAIN
This Range For Only
$24.25.

See - - - it
GEO. H. FARRIS.

A MAN SPRUCES UP

with much more satisfaction if he has an attractive, modern bath room to do it in. He feels cleaner and better in every way. Have us estimate on the cost of giving you this continuous solid comfort. Though our plumbing is top notch our prices are not.

W. K. WARNER,

Phone 168.

Stanford, Ky.

CHOOSING A WHIP.

is an easy matter here. We have every style, for every use and at about any price. The only whip you cannot get here is a poor one. We have none of that kind. Our whips are only a sample of our harness and all kinds of horse goods. You'll find the latter just as good as the whips and equally moderate in price.

J. C. McCLARY, Stanford, Ky.

Great Sire Dead

GAMBETTA WILKES DIES AT CECIL FARM IN BOYLE.

(Danville Advocate.)

Gambetta Wilkes No. 4659, record 2:19 1-4, the greatest sire that ever lived, died last night in his stall at Cecilian sock barns on South Second street in this city. He was 29 years old and was purchased by Messrs. G. and C. P. Cecil of Cambridge, Mass., of Richmond, 26 years ago. That Messrs. Cecil paid $30,000 for Gambetta Wilkes when he was 10 years old. Many flattering offers were refused for him but he was never for sale. The same groom, Paul Helm, was in charge of this great horse from the day he was brought to Danville until his death last night. For twenty-four years Gambetta Wilkes has occupied the same stall and his body will be buried this afternoon in front of the stall he occupied. A handsome marble shaft will be erected to his memory. He was the sire of 212 in the list of standard performers. His dam was Jewell by Gill's Vermont and his sire the great George Wilkes.

Gambetta Wilkes has two half brothers living—Mambrino Wilkes in California and Baron Wilkes in Oklahoma.

Messrs. G. and C. P. Cecil still own many mares and youngsters sired by Gambetta Wilkes and his get are scattered throughout the United States. George Gano, for whom Savage of the International Stock Food Farms, paid $30,000, is one of the greatest sons of this great horse. Branham Baughman is another. Grocery King, owned by T. F. Durham is also considered one of his most promising sons.

Out of thirty-five great mares with six or more in the list, Gambetta Wilkes is the sire of fifteen of them. His offspring were champions at both the St. Louis and Chicago World's Fairs. His get are without equals in the show ring.

FARMER'S DEPARTMENT.

Joe T. Embury sold a pair of yearling mules to John Pepples for $325. Fresh cow for sale. Apply to Mrs. C. R. Coleman.

Hemp harvester for sale. In good condition. W. A. Tribble.

For Sale.—A well improved farm of 20 acres, near Mt. Salem, household and kitchen furniture, stock, and farming tools. P. H. Woodson, Mt. Salem, Ky.

For Sale.—Black mare 5-year-old, with filly colt by her side. Sound. Jesse J. Sartain.

For Sale.—Fine Jersey cow, also nice bed room set including springs and mattress. This office

C. P. Cecil, of Boyle, sold to Monte Fox for Joseph Stern, of New York, 55 head C. export cattle, which will average 1,450 pounds at $7. M. J. Farria sold to Tim Macauliffe, of Louisville, 110, averaging 1,350 pounds, at $6.25.

H. K. Herndon and J. L. Gill sold their farm of 230 acres near Cartersville, Garrard county to Jno. L. Dozier of Knox county at $100 an acre.

John M. Farria announces that Lancaster will have a fair next year, and that the same dates will be reserved.

A farmer and his wife killed their last hog and left the carcass out at night to cool. It was gone next morning. They agreed to say nothing and they would know the first person mentioning their loss was the thief. Sunday as they entered the church the preacher read out his text: "I have meat to eat that you know not of. Nudging his wife the old man whispered: Maria, we never did suspect him did we?"—Ex.

John G. Lynn, of the West End sold this week to the Liberty Milling Company 500 bushels of wheat at $1 per bushel. He also sold 400 bushels of oats to L. M. Reid and 41 head of 1,200-pound cattle to W. H. Lillard, of Danville.

Thurlo Jones this week bought 32 1,150-pound cattle from W. T. Tucker at 5 cents. He turned them over a little later to Will Lillard at a slight advance in price.

SALE OF LAND

As agent of the heirs of Mrs. Nancy B. Good, I will on the premises, at about 2:30 P. M., on Saturday, Sept. 10th, 1910, offer for sale at public outcry tract of 53 89-100 acres owned by Mrs. Good at the time of her death. The land is about 1-2 mile from Turnersville on the McCormack's church pike is well watered and all in grass. Possession given Jan. 1. Terms will be announced on day of sale.

J. B. PAXTON, Agent.

COOK FARMS' FIRST ANNUAL SALE.

Friday Sept. 30th. Greatest event of the kind ever held in Kentucky. 50 saddle mares, colts and fillies, 50 jennets and colts. All registered. Catalogues now ready. Every one of these jennets should be kept in Kentucky.

J. F. COOK & CO., Lexington, Ky.

H. B. Northcott.
LANCASTER, KY.

BUYER OF

All Kinds of Farm Produce

Stanford Branch—T. K. Tudor, M'gr.

WE ARE PAYING TODAY FOR:

Hens ..... 9-10c

Eggs ..... 15-16c

Springers ..... 10-11c

Turkeys ..... 12-13c

Ducks, per lb. .... 7-8c

Roosters, per lb. .... 5-5½c

Hides per lb. .... 7c

Feathers ..... 15-40c

Ginseng, per lb. .... $5.00

Yellow Root, per lb. .... $1-$1.25

LIME AND SALT FOR SALE OR IN EXCHANGE FOR PRODUCE.

We can please you. Phone 153

MULES WANTED!

JOE KINDIG, Of York, Pa.

Will Be At
Moreland

Monday, Aug 29,

To Buy

100 Mule Colts And
50 Yearling Mules

AT COST!

Clearance Sale Of Clothing, Oxfords, Straw
Hats, Odd Pants.

SUITS	HATS.
$25 Suits at.....$16.98	$3.50 Hats at.....$2.68
$22.50 Suits at.....$15.98	$3 Hats at.....$2.28
$20 Suits at.....$13.98	$2.50 Hats at.....$1.78
$18 Suits at.....$11.98	$2 Hats at.....$1.48
$15 Suits at.....$9.98	$1.50 Hats at.....$1.19
$12.50 Suits at.....$8.98	$1 Hats at.....$.79
$10 Suits at.....$6.98
$6 Suits at.....$3.98
OXFORDS.	ODD PANTS.
$4 Oxfords at.....$3.29	$7 Pants at.....$5.48
$3.50 Oxfords at.....$2.79	$6 Pants at.....$4.48
$3.00 Oxfords at.....$2.29	$5 Pants at.....$3.88
$2.50 Oxfords at.....$1.98	$4 Pants at.....$2.98
$2.00 Oxfords at.....$1.68	$3.50 Pants at.....$2.68
	$3 Pants at.....$2.28
	$2.50 Pants at.....$1.98

SAM ROBINSON,
Stanford, Ky.

Green River Camp Meeting,
AT JUMBO,

FOUR MILES FROM MCKINNEY, KY.,

—WILL BE HELD ON—

AUGUST 26 to SEPT. 5, '10.

—BY—

REV. CHAS. D. TILLMAN,

THE WORLD-WIDE KNOWN SINGER AND EVANGELIST, OF
ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

Others will assist in the meeting. This help for our meeting is the best that can be had for a revival or a great camp meeting and by the grace of God we expect have the best meeting we have ever had.

Accommodations: We furnish rooms or tents for those who wish to stay in the grounds. But occupants will please bring bedding. If you wish to buy or rent a tent please apply 10 days before meeting begins.

A dining hall and lunch stand will be run for the benefit of the people. Purpose: this meeting is run for the positive salvation of lost humanity and not a big time gathering place. We propose to run the meeting orderly and not allow drinking or any mis behavior. We want that men flee the wrath to come and prepare to meet God. We believe in and preach holiness of heart and life but our meeting is clear of fanaticism, and the doctrine that we hold is the one that saves men and keeps them saved, revealed in our inward and outward life.

Are you coming? Be sure to come rent you a tent or build you a cottage and stay all through the meeting. You will never regret it.

For further particulars address C. W. Lovell, Stanford, Ky., or Dr. Frank Grider, McKinney, Ky., or Clarence J. Sipple, London, Ky.

Respectfully Yours,

Clarence J. Sipple, Sec., London, Ky.

WHEN UNCLE SAM BUILDS

he is peculiar to specify exactly the kind of building material to be used. follow his example and insist on having our lime, cement, sand, etc., in your contracts. Then many "glorious Fourths" will pass before you need spend any more money on your building.

J. A. ALLEN, Stanford, Ky.

FINE FARM FOR SALE

Located on the Stanford and Ottenheim pike containing 188 1-2 acres well watered, one hundred acres in grass 50 acres for wheat. This land produces fine tobacco, corn and wheat. A fine young orchard of one hundred bearing fruit trees, a modern new six room house, cistern at door, cellar and all necessary outbuildings, two tenant houses, large barn, new silo, free mail delivery, three hundred yards to school, 1 1-2 miles to union church. Will make terms easy. W. F. Dishon, Stanford, Ky., Box 41 Phone 8 ring 3.

Notice

For the next 20 days we will sell our tobacco hogsheds at mill at $1.10 each. We also have some fine white and brown leghorn cockerels for sale. Kings Mountain Planing Mill, Kings Mountain, Ky.